I am expressing my extreme concerns over this proposed hot dip galvanizing plant. I am well aware that this company is know doubt saying that they have all safety concerns about their manufacturing process in place. That is all well and good, but are just words when some equipment failure or new employee makes a mistake that endangers people's lives! Please, please, please consider not permitting such a potentially dangerous business mere yards away from families with young children their parents and many seniors who live so nearby.

Arlington is a wonderful small town to live in and we built our home here because of that. Let's try to keep that small town feel and stop letting companies put buildings up that just sit empty, or urban living apartments with retail below that just sit empty as well. We all know that eventually those unrented ground floor spaces will be remodeled into more apartments. Maybe this town needs to start caring more for its residents than expanding our tax base !!!

Respectfully;
