Dear Ms. Rusko,

I am writing because I have recently been made aware there is a proposal to build a galvanizing facility near Gleneagle in Arlington. From my understanding, the process of galvanizing produces toxic fumes that can be hazardous and cause long-term health problems.

I am asking for this proposal to be denied. The area surrounding where this plant is being considered is densely residential, with people of all ages and health conditions who deserve a healthy home environment. The area is also home to many species of wildlife who enhance the beauty and natural experience of life here. I fear allowing this plant to operate in close proximity to neighborhoods will not only pose a health risk for all inhabitants but will also cause financial harm to the area as it will result in a less desirable location to live.

Please stand with the residents of Gleneagle and surrounding neighborhoods and help us keep our home healthy and beautiful. Please decline this plan.

Sincerely,

Michelle Basford
